LEGION NATIONAL COMMANDER CONDEMNS INTOLERANCE IN U.

By Associated Press
CINCINNATI, July 11.—Declaring that there is no room for intolerance in the United States, Alvin Owsley, national commander of the American Legion, made a strong plea for American unity, regardless of nationality or religious beliefs in an address delivered recently at the cornerstone laying of the St. Vincent de Paul church in Cincinnati, of which Father William P. O'Connor, legion national chaplain, is pastor.

"America is calling today as she has never called before for strong men and women to stand and preach the doctrines of America," Commander Owsley said. "There is no room in America for intolerance, no thought that should divide us, for we are living under the supreme law of the United States, the constitution, which gives the right to worship God according to the dictates of conscience."

Owsley assailed radical tendencies prevailing in the nation in recent years and urged deportation of all persons who would seek to tear down the country's flag.

The Middlesboro-Pineville road is closed until 5 o'clock in the afternoon, according to motorists who were coming from Pineville yesterday afternoon. It had been generally understood that it would be open at 4 o'clock. It is also open from 12 to 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

A large number of vehicles were held up at the place where the road is closed. Improvements are being made on the road between the Washota bridge and Pineville.

Miss Loretta Arnold is spending a vacation at Sunshine Camp, Tenn. Miss Hazel Day, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hoe and family, Mrs. W. B. Schultz and Harry Ausmus left today for an automobile trip to Norfolk, Washington, D. C., New York City and other cities. They will be gone about one month.

RAINBOW BOYS REUNITE WITHOUT "BEST PAL"

Ruth Bush sang before twenty-one of the twenty-six American combat divisions

RUTH BUSH WEBER

INDIANAPOLIS, July 11.—On the eve of a reunion of the Rainbow Division here, there comes to light one of its legends.

Members long had planned to make Ruth Bush, the singing girl of the trenches, their honored guest at the rally.

Recently they heard of her death, caused by the gas attack through which she went five years ago.

Ruth Bush as she was known to thousands of American doughboys, was Mrs. Ruth Charlotte Bush Weber. She passed away here the other day in the midst of preparations by the Rainbow Division Veterans' Association for their reunion, July 13-15.

Vets Carried Body
Veterans were her pallbearers and regulars from Fort Benjamin Harrison, her guest of honor.

Ruth Bush was 21 years old when she went to war. Her diary tells how she sang before 21 of the 26 American combat divisions most of the time with in range of the German guns. Stories of her bravery are told by hundreds who were near her.

To the Rainbow Division she was "their breath of heaven." She knew the boys got tired of seeing uniforms and longed for the sight of the American girl as she appeared at home. And so she would carry a dainty white dress from place to place. There were no dressing rooms. For a place to change from uniform to dress she'd order her undressed maid-turned-attendants to form a square and hold up four blankets.

Goes West

The gas attack wasn't much at the time. She came home after the war and was one of the organizers of the American Women's Overseas League. But pulmonary trouble developed. She went to California. It didn't help and she came home not long ago and died. It was not generally known until her death that Ruth Bush was Mrs. Weber. The couple met while Weber was a student at Purdue University. They saw each other now and then in France, where he served as a lieutenant. Last February they were married in California.

And so the Rainbow Division will reunite this July without the one member the doughboys longed and hoped would be there. They wanted to show her their appreciation for all she did and suffered. But they won't be able to.

2 TAKEN IN LIQUOR RAID IN CLAIRBORNE

Men Who Resisted Officers Recently—Three Still Sites Found, One Gallon Whisky

Constable J. A. Thompson has returned from a liquor raid at Capps' Ford, Clairborne county, which resulted in the capture of Claud Jackson and M. E. Forester who were identified by Deputy Cobb of Clairborne county as men who fired on him with high-power rifles recently. One gallon of liquor was taken in the raid. The posse was led by Sheriff Jack Creek of Clairborne county. The still which was in operation when Deputy Cobb was notified by rifle fire had been removed. Three still sites were found. The prisoners were taken to Tazewell jail in default of bond. They are charged with resisting an officer and with manufacturing and having liquor in possession.

REPORT CASES INFANTILE PARALYSIS IN CORBIN

Cases of infantile paralysis have been reported at Corbin and Dr. George Hays, county health officer, went there today to gather data on the disease so that he can be better able to combat it should it spread to this county.

The disease is one of the most dangerous of early childhood. When it does not kill it leaves the child badly deformed for life. No cases have been reported in this county, according to Dr. Hays.

Miss Nelle Tiller of LaFollette returned home the first of the week accompanied by her sister, Mrs. O. R. Austin, who will visit there for a week.

Mrs. M. G. Hubbard and children returned last night from several weeks' visit in Birmingham, Ala.

Mrs. L. D. Grimes of Lexington arrived for a visit here with her aunt, Mrs. B. H. Perkins.

All local lumber dealers are taking a great deal of interest in the approaching convention and will endeavor to make it a successful one, lending their services toward the entertainment of the guests.

W. L. Baumgardner of Tazewell was here today visiting his brother, J. C. Baumgardner.

Miss Edith Campbell went to Apalachia this morning to visit Miss Marion Holly.

Little Jean Gloster, who was operated on for appendicitis at the Brosheer-Blummett Hospital Sunday is recovering.

MOUSE CAUSES
DEATH OF 3 IN CAR

Jumps On Driver's Shoulder Making Him Lose Control—Car Goes Over Embankment

By Associated Press
MARQUETTE, Mich., July 11.—A field mouse caused the death of three men and the serious injury of two others late Tuesday when it jumped on the shoulder of a truck-driver and caused him to lose control of his machine and it rolled down an embankment into a pond.

BRYAN THEORIES ARE DENOUNCED

Educator Brands Commoners Religious Thought As "Exceedingly Dangerous"

Chicago, July 11.—William Jennings Bryan was termed "an exceedingly dangerous character in religious thought" by the Rev. Edmundson D. Soper, professor of history of religion at Northern University, in an address before a Methodist camp meeting at Des Plaines. Mr. Bryan he said, declares man must choose between the Bible and evolution.

"That," he declared, "is one of the deepest dyed lies going. Man must have come up either from monkeys or from dust. I can see no advantage of mind over monkeys."

Mr. Bryan he added, feared three things if evolution is accepted: That the Bible will be made a lie, that God will be made unnecessary and that man will lose his dignity because of his descent through the animal creation. The Bible, he said, is not a book of science but a book of religion and morality and added, "there is nothing in the world's literature that applies to life as the Bible does."

TO FINISH BLOCK OF PAVING A DAY

With New Machinery 30 Men Can Do Work of 250 Hand Laborers—Work Here Going Well

One block of paving can be done per day by the street making equipment used on the present job, according to E. B. Wilkinson, representing the Wilson-Weesner company of Nashville, Tenn., which manufactures the Barber-Greene loading machine. A crew of thirty men can do as much work as 250 laborers could do by hand.

This is the first time that the automatic loader has been used for scarified penetration macadam, but the experiment has proved an entire success. Work can be done more rapidly, however, when the operators become more familiar with the machinery.

Three crews will be used on the job when the organization is complete. One will do the rough grading with the machinery, another, at the same time will do fine grading on a block which the first crew has been over and a third will pour the concrete. One block each day may be entirely completed in this manner.

The loader has a capacity of 300 cubic yards daily or as much as fifty men could load by hand. The scarifying is done by a "Rip Snorter" grader, made by the Austin Manufacturing company. It is drawn by a ten-ton Kelly-Springfield road roller.

John Humbard of the Humbard Construction company in is town with Mr. Wilkinson today. Both are keenly interested in the progress of the work and the success of the new machinery.

Weather Forecast

WASHINGTON, July 11.—For Kentucky: Fair in south portion, local thunderstorms in north tonight and Thursday; continued warm.

CHINESE GIRL, MEDICAL STUDENT TO BE USE
HERE DURING SUMMER

A charming bit of the orient, indeed, is little Miss Lydia Hu, of China, who is spending the summer in Middlesboro. Pretty, with the blue-black hair, the dark almond eyes, and petite grace of her race, and intelligent with the mental alertness and careful thoughtfulness which has brought oriental women to the front in the past few years. Miss Lydia Hu is one of the most delightful persons to meet we have found in many a day.

Miss Hu is studying at the University of Cincinnati to be a doctor of medicine and she will work as night nurse at the Brosheer-Blummett hospital here this summer. She has been in school in the United States eight years, first in Arizona where her guardian lived, and since she became of age, in Cincinnati. She speaks English very well, with scarcely an accent.

Miss Hu intends to go back to China to practice medicine as soon as she finishes here, and she is very impatient to finish her course. "There is so much work to be done among the women and children of China," she said. "The Chinese woman would rather die than go to a man doctor. They will only let another woman help them."

Two Loving Hearts Kept Asunder
By Prohibitive Mandate of the Law

The strong arm of the law embodied in a restraining order of the court was sufficient to send an aged, but ardent, wooer scampering back to his native Minnesota.

It was in an agitated and apprehensive manner that he registered at a local hotel yesterday.

"Don't believe I'll be safe here," he confided, mysteriously. Then, in a sudden burst of confidence, he poured forth his tale of woe into the sympathetic ear of the proprietor.

For some time he had been carrying on a correspondence with a woman near Pineville. Neither of the twain were extremely young, both being about sixty-five years old, but all the fervor of youth entered into the courtship.

Marriage was agreed upon and the lover left Minnesota two weeks ago to claim his southern fiancée. The couple met and affairs began to shape toward matrimony when relatives, the stumbling block to lovers since the beginning of time, interfered.

It seems that the Bell county woman is possessed of considerable property and, though the hero stated that his motives were not mercenary, he admitted that the old lady's wealth was no minor consideration.

The relatives obtained a restraining order from the circuit judge by which the Minnesota man was prohibited from "visiting, marrying, taking any money from or even talking to" the old lady. He produced the writ of injunction to support his story.

After the writ had been served on him, he met the woman in a public place and she began talking to him about his apparent infidelity. He could not speak a word in his own defense since even talking to her would invoke a jail sentence.

"I put my hand over my mouth to keep from talking," he said. "Later I explained to a third party why I was not allowed to talk to her and asked him to explain it to her."

He remained in the vicinity of Pineville and asked advice from several men, including the sheriff. All told him he was defeated and that he had better leave before the injunction was made permanent. He received so much advice of this nature that he suddenly lost courage and fled in disgraceful rout from Pineville.

The affair had no humorous angle for him. He was genuinely worried here. Sitting in the hotel lobby in deep meditation, the forlorn lover was a picture of abject despair, the personification of love unrequited.

The hotel proprietor, like the others, advised him to return home. He did not like the idea of returning through Pineville lest harm befall him at the hands of an irate relative but being assured that this was not likely to happen, he took the evening train and bade adieu to the "hospitable" south.

REVEAL MORE IN FLA. BOOTLEGGING

Says Autos Built For Liquor Transportation Sold—Dealers Guarantee Safe Delivery

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 11.—Run, running along the Florida coast has developed to such a flourishing industry that some Florida automobile dealers sell cars especially built to transport the liquor. They furnish a chauffeur and guarantee safe delivery anywhere, the Chicago Daily News declared today in the second of a series of copyright articles describing rum running along the Atlantic seaboard. The writer, with a bootlegger named "Terry," investigated conditions along the Florida coast and declared he was approached by an auto dealer who believed the newspaper man a bootlegger, and described the system. The dealer offered bank references and other proof of this integrity.

FORD COMPANY WILL MAKE TEN THOUSAND CARS A DAY

Ten thousand Fords per day will be manufactured at the Ford factories next year, according to W. D. Motch, who was present at the business meeting of Ford dealers of this zone at the Continental hotel at Pineville yesterday afternoon. The main purpose of the meeting was to better acquaint the dealers with the weekly purchase plan.

Dealers from Mt. Vernon, Ky., to Tazewell, Tenn., were present at the meeting. C. L. Peabody and G. H. Franz, representatives of the Cincinnati branch, were in charge of the meeting.

MORE BOOKS FOR LIBRARY THROUGH COMMUNITY CHEST

More books will be bought for the Carnegie Library when the first payment from the Community Chest is received, according to Mrs. T. D. Arnold, librarian. She will be governed largely by the wishes of the patrons in ordering new books and any suggestions from the public in regard to this matter will be welcome at any time.

WHEAT DROPS

Rare Event Since World War—Weak Demand and Hedging Sales Blamed

By Associated Press
CHICAGO, July 11.—Although wheat opened today at one dollar or above per bushel it soon dropped below the dollar mark, a rare event since the world war and the first time this season. The increasing movement of new wheat, weak expected demand, and hedging sales all contributed to the price break.

MRS. SERGENT GETS LIFE SENTENCE

Pike County Woman Convicted of Conspiracy With Brothers in Husband's Death

By Associated Press

WHITESBURG, July 11.—Mrs. Jane Sergeant, 40, was convicted of murder charge in connection with the death of her husband, Elton Sergeant in Pike circuit court today and sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary. Sergeant was lured from his home on Indian Creek in this county in December 1919 and killed with a coal pick. The commonwealth charged the defendant conspired with the four Bates brothers for her husband's slaying. Trial Bates is serving a life sentence in the penitentiary for conviction in connection with the crime. The trials of the other Bates boys are to follow that of Mrs. Sergeant.

FIRST ICE FROM NEW K. U.
PLANT DELIVERED YESTERDAY

The first ice from the new plant of the Kentucky Utilities company was delivered yesterday. Four hundred and eight blocks, half the number frozen, were "pulled" early in the morning and delivered to eager purchasers, many of whom had brought wagons and other vehicles to the plant.

Judging from the first ice produced at the new plant, it is of excellent quality—transparent as glass and frozen through and through. Only one white cake was "pulled" yesterday. Ice will be taken from the freezing tanks once daily for local delivery and local shipments. Excess quantities may be carried in the storage room which is kept, at all times, below the freezing point.

Bloodhounds Pt On Trail At Spot Where Suitcase With Man's Clothing And Razor Found In Thickly Wooded Spot

NO ONE REPORTED AS MISSING OR WOUNDED

By Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, July 11.—Bloodhounds were taken this afternoon to take up the trail of footprints near the blood-stained clothing found yesterday in a thickly wooded spot on the William Threlkeld farm near the Jefferson-Oldham county line. Footprints were those of a man and woman, officers say, and expressed the belief the victim was a third person who was dragged to a nearby creek or taken to the Ohio river two miles away. The bloody clothes were those of a man.

It is the investigators' opinion that the attackers waited in the bushes for the victim and that the attack was made Sunday. They think the bloody overall jacket was placed on the fence to attract attention and lead to a search for the body. A meal ticket issued by a Louisville restaurant may prove a valuable clue in unraveling the mystery. Indications at the spot where the clothes together with the suitcase were found were that a desperate struggle took place.

By Associated Press.

LOUISVILLE, July 11.—Jefferson and Oldham county officials are working today to solve the mystery of the bloody suitcase and a razor found near the Jefferson county line by hunters. No person in that section is reported missing and there are no reports of a wounded person being seen.

LATONIA MAY BE ENTIRELY DIVORCE DFROM COVINGTON

COVINGTON, July 11.—Shall Latonia be divorced from Covington? This is a question that is receiving attention just now as the result of a series of conferences attended by citizens of Latonia and Rosedale, which comprise the entire southern section of Covington. A number of women are said to have inaugurated a movement looking to the withdrawal of Latonia from Covington and become a "municipality" of the fourth class as it was prior to annexation in 1909.

Causes for this movement are said to be negligence on the part of officials to make repairs on streets, high taxes, and other grievances.

Petitions are said to be in circulation for presentation to the City Commissioners requesting that necessary steps be taken to give Latonia its independence. Endorsement of civic organizations is to be sought.

ARMY SALVAGE CO. STARTS
BIG SALE HERE TOMORROW

Large quantities of merchandise are on hands for the big sale which the Army Salvage company, formerly known as the Army and Navy Goods store, is preparing to open at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Women's dresses, shoes and Oxfords for men and women and dress goods are some of the many articles which will be sold at low prices during the sale.

The self-service shoe racks which not only adequately display the shoes but also enable the patrons to pick out what they want is an exclusive feature of the store. The windows of the store are being rebuilt so that goods may be displayed more attractively. The Army Salvage store is a link in the Efron-Goelman chain of stores which gives it the advantage of large quantity purchases.

SONG SERVICE EACH NIGHT

Flash from the sea;
When the clear mountains glimmer in the moon,

By chasm and steep.

I hear thee when the tides go murmuring soft

In lone and still words I listen oft
And hear thee there.

LONG LIFE

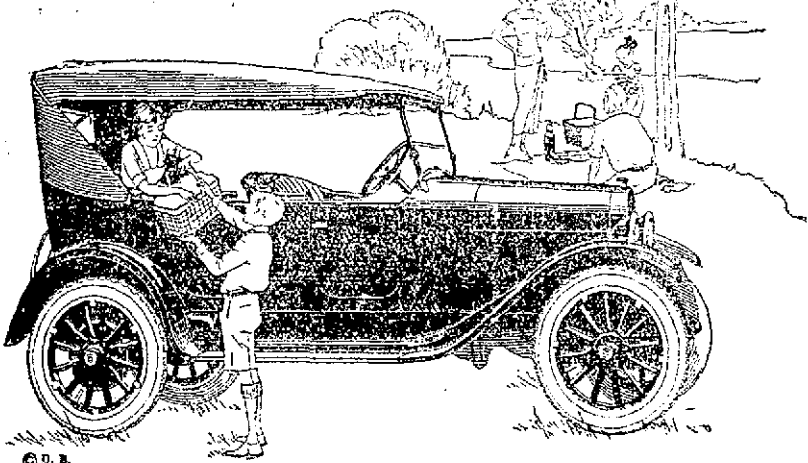

In buying a motor car, consider what the cost will be when divided over a period of years.

What is the car's reputation for satisfactory service after the first year? After the second? And after the third—and fourth?

These considerations, in the final analysis, are the true basis of economy in motoring.

And it is this attribute of long life to which Dodge Brothers Motor Car owes its chief claim upon the unalterable loyalty of its owners.
